ILLUSTRATION

If you have multiple shapes in your Illustrator project, you will need to select the shape you want to color. To do so, click the icon that resembles a black mouse cursor in the Tools panel (or press "V" on the keyboard) to select the Select tool. Then click the shape you want to color. It's at the bottom of the Tools panel to the left. It is colored black by default. The box that is completely filled in is the "Fill" color. This is the color of the shape. .

LANDSCAPE

illustrartion photo

In this project We chose a picture of a city from a wide perspective and started drawing lines from above the picture on the Illustrator program, and it took a lot of time to do this because there are many fine details that need high concentration, and then we chose a color palette to limit the colors that we need for coloring, and we used the gradiant method in Coloring This was one of the most difficult and boring projects in this course

ALL THE UNIVERSE

This project is the most beautiful among my projects that I have designed. It was titled "The Universe in Your Hands". In the beginning, I chose a background that resembled the word universe to go along with the title. Then I created a floor from the image of a desert and pasted it over the image of the galaxy and added the man in the foreground to represent the man who owns the universe.

E IN YOUR HAND

After preparing the basics I downloaded pictures of the planets and modified the background on Photoshop and added it to the original image. Then I put them in such a way that the man shows that all these planets are in his hands. In the end I modified the colors to be homogeneous and consistent. The nigga was very good.
